Dear Graduate Recruitment Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in applying for the June 2024 Internship Programme at ByrneWallace LLP. As a soon-to-be graduate in May with a first (expected) in my bachelor's degree in Philosophy and Mathematics from Trinity College Dublin, I am eager to contribute to the work of your law firm in Dublin.

I am applying to ByrneWallace LLP because of its exceptional reputation and expertise in the field of commercial law. As an aspiring solicitor, I am eager to gain practical experience and to learn from those colleagues in your firm who are unsurpassed in their legal acumen. I am positive that an internship with ByrneWallace LLP will provide me with an unparalleled insight into complex legal matters and a chance to contribute to high-profile cases. This exposure will enhance my legal knowledge and skills; qualities I would like to perfect during my potential career with ByrneWallace LLP. I firmly believe that I could receive legal experience of the highest quality by contributing my passion and dedication to your firm.

I am confident that my unique academic background, coupled with my enthusiasm for law practice, will make me an invaluable addition to your firm. My philosophical studies have provided me with a broad and historical understanding of Western jurisprudence and its moral foundations. I believe that this legal understanding of mine would prove uniquely insightful in the context of a modern law firm, where the development of the law is perpetually ongoing and new legal precedents are continually being set. Additionally, I have a background in mathematics, a field which requires the use of logical precision and deductive reasoning in the construction of rigorous proofs. Given that rigorous argumentation is key to the success of litigation, and that jurisprudence is essential for legal developments, I believe I am well-positioned to contribute to the work of a law firm such as yours.

After graduation, my ambition is to sit the FE-1 exams with the goal of becoming a solicitor, and to then develop my career as a trainee with ByrneWallace LLP. I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your firm's success and to assist both private and public bodies across the various legal services you provide. My aspiration is to help people navigate the complexities of the Irish legal system by meeting their judicial needs with professional and precise solutions.

Thank you for reading my application, and I hope to hear from you soon.

Warm regards,
Fergal Martin
