

Dear Graduate Recruitment,

I am a penultimate-year student at Trinity College Dublin, currently undertaking a degree focused on business, economics and social studies. I am writing to apply for a place on your Summer Vacation Scheme commencing in 2022. A place on the forthcoming vacation scheme would allow me to further my commitment to a career in commercial law, and I feel confident that I could contribute substantially to the work of Byrne Wallace.

In university, my creative thinking ability and sound analytical skills have allowed me to approach arduous assignments from a myriad of different perspectives. I have enjoyed the task of undertaking vast amounts of research in order to develop a sound and structured answer to a set assignment. As a result, I believe that a career in commercial law is the perfect opportunity to use the best of my strengths and abilities. As someone with a great sense of commercial awareness and an inclination to help others, I believe that the environment of commercial law is the perfect one for me. I have a keen interest in current affairs and particularly what goes on in the world of international business on a daily basis. I have developed my sense of commercial awareness through my involvement with my university's business and economics society (DUBES). I also receive a great sense of satisfaction and fulfilment from helping others less fortunate than myself.

My involvement with the Feed Our Homeless charity has allowed me to make a noticeable and tangible difference in the lives of those who are currently facing homelessness. I am confident that the environment of commercial law would allow me to combine my sharpened business acumen with my desire to help others, and as a result, would provide me with an extremely rewarding and fulfilling career path.

Thank you for reading my application.
