Subject: Internship Application

Dear Sir/Ma'am,

My name is Jyothish Krishna, I am from India and I would like to start by telling you a little bit about myself and my professional profile in order to give you a general idea of my background.

As globalization sweeps across continents, linking domestic markets together through international enterprises, like most other fields, the practice of law has become a global endeavor. Hailing from a middle-class family in India, I grew up in an environment where education was valued above all. Watching my father strive as a businessman and my mother pursued a successful career as a Health Inspector, inspired the sentiments of hard work and perseverance in me quite early. As a bright student, after completing High School, I found myself gravitating towards a more people-centric career, focused on real-world circumstances, and ultimately settled on the precise and meticulous study of law which I believed would not only utilize and hone my naturally advanced logical and analytical skills but also complement my outgoing personality. I also took part in a wide range of academic and extra-curricular activities, participating in intra-college debates, and developing my ability to speak in public and defend my point of view, as critical skills of a lawyer. It was through such debates that I first developed an interest in the subject of Law.

I also undertook internships with practicing lawyers at the Indian High Courts where I got the chance to dive deep into researching specific nuances of civil, criminal, and constitutional law, assisting my seniors with drafting work while also getting the chance to attend Court proceedings and provide litigation assistance which helped me to establish myself as a lawyer on graduating from law school. In the meantime, cognizant of my social responsibility, I partook in various welfare initiatives and philanthropic activities.

As a result of my well-rounded and socially conscious bent during law school, I was able to land my previous role as Associate Solicitor of Thomas and Thomas Advocates, Kerala, India upon graduation. The firm had noted my knack for business law in the early months of my joining and accordingly assigned me to the labour and employment law division. As a professional solicitor with over 2 years of experience practicing employment and corporate law, I have had the invaluable opportunity to counsel and legally represent a wide range of corporate clients, including Multi-National Companies and Banks. I am now pursuing the renowned LLM program at the National University of Ireland, Galway (NUI) specializing in International and Comparative Business Law, which I believe would help me become competent enough to resume my legal practice on a global level after graduation. I am also proud to mention that I am currently pursuing my FE1 exams. It will lend me the credibility required to progress professionally in the area of my choice.

I made my decision to apply for the internship from the Byrne Wallace LLP because of the reputation and the values that the firm holds. I carried out extensive research to learn about the firm and it has helped me understand that it manages and focus on Capital Markets - Equity Capital, Consumer Law, Corporate, International / FDI, Mergers & Acquisitions (M&A), Employment law and offers legal advice to various established top-tier individuals in the field. I am particularly excited to interact with and learn from Lorraine Smith (Partner the ByrneWallace LLP Employment Team), who have a wide experience in Employment Law. I am confident that an internship from ByrneWallace LLP could give me immense opportunities that I have been expecting to leverage to grow in my career. All these reasons encouraged me to carry out my internship at ByrneWallace LLP.

I am extremely confident that the internship experiences at the firm would mold me to be a skilled and insightful law professional as required by the industry. I consider the opportunity to become a part of your firm a privilege that I will always strive to honor by working hard persistently. I am extremely excited to become a part of your firm where I will be able to grow under the tutelage of some of the most experienced and knowledgeable law professionals.

The chance to join your office would be a tremendous opportunity and honor. I believe that my academic and professional experience combined with my passion and dedication, make me a good candidate for an Internship at ByrneWallace LLP. I have enclosed my CV and a cover letter for your review. I hope that you will allow me to speak with you in person about the possibility of joining your office as an Intern and can be reached at 0894624853 or Jyothishkrishna170 @ gmail.com or J.Krishna2@nuigalway.ie.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Jyothish Krishna
