

Thomas Scally
1 Reuben Street, Rialto, Co. Dublin
+353 83 045 3938 | thomasscally0@gmail.com

RE: Thomas Scally application to ByrneWallace LLP Internship Programme

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am a final year Law student in Maynooth University expecting to graduate with a 2.1 in June 2024. I believe it would greatly enhance my academic studies to gain experience working in a law firm and I am writing to you to apply for the ByrneWallace internship programme.

Being part of the ByrneWallace LLP internship programme, working alongside talented legal professionals would give me the opportunity to develop my skills and provide me with work that will be challenging and interesting. I possess many of the skills and qualities that you are seeking and with my strong academic background, this makes me a perfect candidate for this opportunity.

I have a hard work ethic and a can-do attitude which can be attributed to starting work at sixteen. I have worked part-time and saved up to support myself through college and this is something that I remain very proud of. Working with Halfords throughout my four years of college, has given me expert time management skills along with a resilient attitude. As part of my role as Keyholder I am involved with both selecting and training new staff. I am responsible for opening and closing the shop and the everyday running of one of the busiest and most profitable shops in the Halford's chain. These duties carry a large amount of responsibility and are a genuine testament to my ability to communicate and integrate with new people, my dependable character, and my capability to lead a team.

Moving from the countryside in Kerry to Dublin was quite difficult during Covid, starting college remotely was not ideal, however, despite this I believe it helped me grow tremendously.

I am highly self-motivated, having a keen interest in fitness and the gym. I am continuously looking to better myself. This ambition to be better every day is exactly why I want to work with ByrneWallace as your reputation for innovation, knowledge and expertise really excites me. I genuinely believe that if given the opportunity by ByrneWallace I would be a tremendous asset to the firm.

Yours sincerely,

Thomas Scally