

Hayley Egan

CONTACT

Address: 14 Blackwood Park, Ongar Chase,, Ongar, , Dublin

Phone: 0862614431

Email: hayley.egan2@gmail.com

SKILLS

- Legal research
- Legal drafting
- Legal analysis
- Proofreading and editing
- Problem solving
- Self-motivated
- Extremely Organised
- Strong communication skills
- Attention to Detail
- Team player
- High level of IT skills
- Confidentiality
- B1 level of Italian
- Knowledge of French

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Obtained a certificate in International Criminal Law, presented by Case Western Reserve University - November 2018 - January 2019.
- Completed an online course and received a certificate on the Rights of Refugees, presented by Amnesty International - October 2018.
- Obtained a certificate from Leiden University after the completion of the online course of "Terrorism and Counter-Terrorism: Comparing Theory and Practice" - October 2017.
- Trained volunteer in giving free legal advice in clinics (FLAC) in the areas of

EDUCATION

Masters Degree: International And Comparative Law (LL.M), 2020

Trinity College - Dublin

I obtained a First Class Honours Degree (1:1) and obtained the following grades in each individual module:

- International Criminal Law (1:1)
- Human Rights Clinic (1:1) - I participated in a group report on the national and international legal frameworks for the Roma and Traveller Communities, in which my research focused on the European Union frameworks such as the Race Equality Directive and the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights. This report was written for an Irish NGO.
- Refugee Law (1:1)
- Dissertation (1:1)
- International Humanitarian Law (2:1)
- Public International Law (2:1)
- National Security Law (2:1)

Papers: I have also written highly researched papers on the following topics and received a 1:1 in these:

- A paper examining whether the 1951 Refugee Convention accommodates for stateless asylum seekers in pursuing claims for refugee status.
- A paper examining the deliberate crime of starvation in non international armed conflicts such as in Yemen, Syria and South Sudan, and an analysis of the potential power of the International Criminal Court's latest amendment to the Rome Statute to prosecute for such crime in this context.

My Master's dissertation is centered around European foreign terrorist fighters who have travelled to Syria and Iraq to join ISIS. It critically analyses the security threat that foreign terrorist fighters pose to Europe upon their return and it uncovers the legal responses of Belgium, France and the UK to the homecoming of this cohort. I created a comprehensive and contemporary dataset of terrorist attacks committed by ISIS affiliates in Europe from 2014 until June 2020. I received a 1:1 grade in my dissertation.

Bachelor of Laws: Law (LL.B), 2018

Maynooth University - Co. Kildare, Ireland

I obtained a First Class Honours (1:1) in my undergraduate Law Degree.

- Finishing second in my class.

- I studied abroad in Italy at the University of Trento for my 3rd year of studies.

WORK HISTORY

Judicial Assistant

01/2019 to 09/2019

Courts Service of Ireland - Four Courts, Dublin

For several months I worked as a judicial researcher for the Superior Courts. My tasks consisted of:

- Conducting legal research on behalf of judges of the High Court, the Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court of Ireland;
- Proofreading and editing trial judgments;
- Accompanying Judges to Court when required: I assisted a High Court Judge from the Criminal Court for several weeks in which I organised and prepared the courtroom and chambers for the Judge, escorted the Judge to Court, attended trials of murder and rape cases and liaised with lawyers and registrars in the Court.
- I was then appointed to the Honourable Ms. Justice O'Regan of the High Court in which my tasks included:
- Escorting the Judge to/from chambers and assisting in Court by preparing the Courtroom and taking notes of the trial Liaising with lawyers inside and outside the Court;
- Announcing "All Rise" when the Judge enters/leaves the courtroom; Assisting with Judgment drafting and editing.
- Printed Judgments and obtained the required signatures and then filed them within the Court Registry. I also handed out the Judgments in Court to the respective parties.
- I accompanied the Judge 'on circuit,' in which we both travelled to the High Court situated in Cork for several weeks as the Judge was chairing trials of personal injury claims there. I undertook my aforementioned tasks while present there

Legal Executive

10/2018 to 01/2019

Bank of Ireland - Ballsbridge, Dublin

- Based within the Securities Department, I worked as part of two teams, the first being the Projects Team during which my duties consisted of analysing and collating highly-confidential legal documents, and then inputting them into particular databases.
- I also worked as part of the Vacates Team during which I was exposed to the process of vacating a mortgage and issuing customers with their Title Deeds and performing E-discharges on the Land Registry's website;
- Additionally, I composed and sent letters to the applicable solicitors/customers informing them of particular matters relating to the specific Title Deeds.

Legal Intern in the Office of the Prosecutor

06/2018 to 09/2018

United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY/MICT) - The Hague, The Netherlands

- Assigned to the Srebrenica Genocide Team to assist in the appeal of Ratko Mladic;
- Assisting lawyers in the Appeal division of the OTP by preparing legal materials for court and conducting legal analysis on evidence;
- Researching and drafting parts of the Prosecution Response to the Defence Appeal Brief;
- Classifying and preparing evidence and reading witness transcripts on particular United Nations databases, such as Casemap, Livenote, eCourt and Jigsaw;
- Legal research on comparative and international criminal law and humanitarian law issues;
- Conducting research on the Status of Victims in relation to the crimes of murder and extermination;
- I was promoted to the position of Intern-in-Charge, which consisted of delegating work amongst the Appeal Interns and dealing with any issues the Appeal Lawyers and interns may have.

Legal Researcher to Dr. John Reynolds

06/2016 to 08/2016

Maynooth University - Law Department at Maynooth University

- I was honoured to win a legal researching competition in the Law Department of Maynooth University. I had the wonderful opportunity to work as a Legal Researcher for an International Law Professor, assisting with relevant research for the book he was writing.
- My main focus for research was on countries that have declared a State of Emergency and the potential human rights abuses this may arise from this. My research paid particular attention to Muslims in France after the declared State of Emergency due to the Paris terrorist attacks and on the Aboriginal People in the Northern Territory in Australia.
- My research consisted of analysing and drafting summaries of reports by the Special Rapporteur for Indigenous Peoples and reports by the High Commissioner for Human Rights.