Education

2015 – Present: BCL Law with French Law, UCD

2013 – 2015: The Institute of Education. (Leaving Certificate attached.)

2012 – 2013: Lycée Bristol, Cannes, France

Previous Work Experience

September – December 2016 – KC Peaches

In order to support my studies during the first semester of my second year in UCD, I worked part-time in KC Peaches. During my time working here I occupied the positions of waitress, customer service and pastry manager. I thoroughly enjoyed working in an energetic environment, communicating with both staff and customers. I acquired valuable communication and presentation skills.

June-August 2016 – LK Shields

I am very fortunate to have spent 3 weeks working in LK Shields Solicitors during the summer of 2016 working as a paralegal. My main jobs were to co-ordinate, prepare and interpret complex legal documents including pleadings, motions, briefs, interrogatories, responses, agreements and legal memoranda. I also aided in carrying out legal research in databases and libraries

2013-Present - Tutor

Throughout 5th and 6th year I used my language skills to tutor Junior Cycle students. Working independently I created a network of clients and improved my communication and management skills. The lessons needed to be tailored to the needs of each individual student which was an aspect of the role I enjoyed. Much like the knowledge I aimed to impart on my students, it is crucial for legal advice to be tailored to the needs of the client. Not only is the service I provide important, but also I found that maintaining good relationships with students and parents is a core element of the tuition industry. Since 2015 I am employed with First Tutors Ireland which has allowed my tutoring service to grow further.

August 2015 – Serena Boutique

I spent one month in Serena Boutique in Sandymount during the summer of 2015 as work experience. During this time, I learned how to use the cash register as well as gaining customer service and communication skills.

2012-2013 – JB Watersports

I have had the unique experience of working at a water sports center on a beach in the Cote d'Azur, south of France. The water center was fast paced and challenging. I executed, and further developed, my time management, organisation and communication skills to great avail. My fluency in English, French and German was massively advantageous and allowed me to add value to the experiences of our tourist and French local clients. My time in JB Water Sports contributed greatly to my decision in pursuing a degree which is also heavily based on communication in a swift paced environment.

Profile and interests

I would consider myself a very motivated and determined person. I chose to spend my transition year abroad in France in order to perfect my French. I am fluent in French, German and English. I am an outgoing individual whose passion is travelling and communicating with others from different cultures and backgrounds. I spent August 2014 in Freiburg University taking part in an international language and culture course, during which I received a Fluency Certificate (attached). Throughout senior school I have participated in debating and Model United Nations (MUN), taking part in international competitions all over Ireland and the UK. This has given me great experience in problem solving and public speaking. I am passionate about challenging myself to try new things out of my comfort zone. Recently I took part in the EY Better Questions Challenge, this was a competition unlike any I've been involved in before. I found working in a high intensity environment with my team under time pressure exciting and rewarding. I am always open to new ideas and find it very gratifying to be involved in projects which seek to improve all aspects of the world we live in.

I am hard working not only in an academic perspective but also in sports. Through school and University I have played many sports and have been a member of different sporting clubs, such as hockey, tae-kwon-do, athletics, wake-boarding, skiing, fencing and boxing. I was captain of both my school and club hockey A team. This has given me great team building and communication skills.
