Date of Birth: 13-9-1995

Education:

- Current: 3rd and Final Year student of Economics, Politics and Law in Dublin City University (DCU).
- Previous: Honours Leaving Certificate student at Skerries Community College.

Personal Profile:

I am an enthusiastic, hardworking, trustworthy and capable person as evidenced by:

- I currently have a weekend role in a café at ‘Courtlough Shooting Grounds’ and have previously worked with the ‘With Taste’ catering company.
 - In my current role I work as a Barista, and handle money, using a cash register.
 - This role has given me experience of working with the public and of the importance of Customer Service.
- I recently spent the Summer of 2015 working in New York on a J1 visa as a lifeguard and bus counsellor for a children's day camp (Breezemont Day Camp), where being responsible, focused and adaptable to a constantly changing environment was of paramount importance.
- I worked as a temporary sales assistant in a shoe store, Schuh, for a month over Christmas 2014. I successfully met and exceeded my sales targets and on one occasion I received the title of Sales Champ, having sold the most shoes in a day.
- In 2014 I took part in a voluntary tuition programme run by DCU called BITE - (Ballymun Initiative for Third-level Education), where I tutored a second year student in Trinity Comprehensive School in Honours Junior Certificate Mathematics.

- In 2012, I was elected as Deputy Head Girl at Skerries Community College by my teachers and fellow students. I was also appointed to the School Council, to the position of a mentor and also to be one of the school's Prefects. As part of my duties as Prefect I was given the responsibility of working in the school shop and handling money.
- I have been a member of Scouting Ireland for nine years:
 - I was appointed as a Watch Leader in my local Sea Scout Troup in 2010, and during this time I led a team which took first place in the Fingal County Challenge.
 - I have been elected twice as Fingal County Representative for my scout troop.
 - I progressed to Rovers (an older group in Scouts) in September 2013, becoming the Chairperson of our group, consisting of ten people.
 - I am also now an adult Scout Leader in my former Sea Scout group.
- I was a CTYI (Centre for Talented Youth of Ireland) student in DCU and have completed courses there such as Debating, Creative Thinking, Creative Writing, Veterinary Sciences, Zoology and Classical Writing.
- I won third place, with my partner, in the Junior Group category in the Chemical, Physical and Mathematical science section category of the BT Young Scientist in 2009. As part of this competition, I was interviewed by RTE for the evening television news.
- I am very enthusiastic about languages, and have gone to the Gaeltacht for six consecutive years, one year (2007) winning a scholarship. I love English and French, and I won first place for my written pieces in my former school's "Short Story and Poetry" competition, two years
