- Updating and overseeing busy joint databases shared between Intertrust Ireland and clients.
- Other ad hoc duties required by Relationship Managers and Directors.

Crowley Carbon – Paralegal

Enniskerry, Wicklow

October 2019 – January 2020

My role in this company was to provide paralegal support to Brian Monaghan, director of global growth, with regards to the due diligence required in connection with a financing agreement with investors Tikehau capital. I contributed in a number of ways:

- Using datarooms to update documentation such as leases and financial documents relating to Crowley Carbon and subsidiaries.
- Engaging in continuous communication with stakeholders i.e. solicitors and auditors, to provide or obtain any documentation required.
- Collaborating with other departments and units within the company and its foreign subsidiaries, in order to collect and present information.
- Applying Microsoft Excel knowledge to update, organise and collate spreadsheets regarding company contracts and to complete Know Your Client information forms required by Tikehau.
- Meticulously organising and maintaining files in their hard copies and also on Google Drives.

Office of the Attorney General - Internship

July 2018

One of two final year NUIG students awarded this internship based on academic achievement.

- Supervised by Mr. Jonathon Buttimore S.C. whose group of Advisory Council dealt primarily in the areas of healthcare and banking law.
- Collaborated with a diverse list of solicitors, barristers, government officials, and interest groups.
- Succeeded in meeting all deadlines and progressively increased workload as a result of my time management and organisational skills.
- Demonstrated ability to complete accurate and high-standard work within tight deadlines.
- Gained first-hand experience in the areas of litigation, banking and healthcare law which served to increase my understanding of these topics.
- Assisted in the research and presentation of advice relating to the current Risk Equalization Scheme to the CSSO and members of the government.
- Prepared and helped conduct several meetings with the Banking Division of the Department of Finance with regard to the Capital Requirement Regulation and its effect on the Central Bank of Ireland.

John F. Martin & Co. Solicitors – Clinical Placement

January– April 2018

I completed this placement as part of Clinical Legal Education, a module offered to final year BCL students with outstanding academic records.

- Achieved a first class honor based on attendance, contribution and reflective essay.
- Roles involved drafting memos, opinions and letters to clients and on their behalf.
- Delegated an increasing amount of responsibility throughout placement and worked entirely with the named partner attending court as well as meetings with clients.
- Responsible for scheduling meetings and preparing documents for court which demonstrated time management and organisational skills.
