Re: Traineeship Application

To Whom it May Concern,

This letter is to express my keen interest in the 2024/2025 Trainee Solicitor position at ByrneWallace LLP. Please also find enclosed a detailed CV.

I am a final year Bachelor of Civil Law student at the University of Galway with an interest in the many different areas of law. This has particularly interested me to ByrneWallace LLP and your wide variety of practice areas. During my final year I have been afforded the opportunity to shape my degree by choosing a specialist stream which corresponds to thematic areas of study and will allow me to specialise in a particular area. I have selected general law and in this I have selected to study, commercial, IT, environmental and housing Law. I believe these areas of law are particularly relevant in the world today and make me an ideal candidate for this position.

I am a conscientious and eager worker and I believe I possess a lot of qualities that translate well into the role of a trainee solicitor. I am passionate about the law and protecting the interests of all who seek the help of a solicitor. I have always enjoyed the problem-solving aspect of my law assignments, which is something that gives me great confidence in pursuing a career in a Commercial Law firm.

As well as this, I am attracted to the value that ByrneWallace LLP places on its trainees. I think this is such an important quality in a firm and is one of the main reasons for my interest in your firm. As outlined in my application, I believe that a healthy work-life balance is fundamental. I can see that we share this value and ByrneWallace LLP strive to promote this balance in the many activities and events organised within the firm.

Thank you for your time, I would be extremely grateful to be considered for an interview for this Traineeship, and an opportunity to share more about my experience and passion for the law.

Yours sincerely,

Aisling Flynn
