To Whom it may concern,

I am writing to register my interest in the Trainee solicitor programme at Byrne Wallace LLP.

I am a Masters of Laws (LL.M) student at Trinity College Dublin with a Bachelor of Civil Law Degree from the University of Galway. Having spent the past few months sitting the FE-1 exams and starting a postgraduate degree I am eager to commence my journey as a trainee solicitor and I feel that Byrne Wallace would be an amazing firm to train with.

I have experience both in and outside the legal field as detailed in my CV. During my legal internship, I developed practical skills in research, drafting legal documents, and client relations, while my role as a reservations agent honed my ability to communicate effectively and manage client expectations. These experiences have enhanced my attention to detail and my ability to work in high-pressure environments, which I believe would be valuable assets at Byrne Wallace.

I am particularly drawn to your emphasis on a partner-led approach, as it promotes collaboration and builds meaningful connections with clients, while also ensuring that trainees receive practical, hands-on experience in their development. While I am particularly interested in the areas of Employment and EU Law, I am open minded and I am committed to immersing myself in a full service law firm such as Byrne Wallace where I would gain exposure to many different sectors of law.

Thank you for considering my application. I would be delighted to discuss it further with you.

Yours sincerely,

Aisling Flynn
