

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to apply for the Internship programme at ByrneWallace.

I am extremely interested in gaining experience in a firm that is innovative, client-focused, and that would allow me to learn about a diverse range of practice areas. I would also appreciate the opportunity to be part of a firm that not only has Irish based clients, but International ones as well.

I am in my third and final year of the LLB (Hons) programme at Griffith College Dublin, and Currently hold a high 2:1.

I am hardworking, dedicated, and creative. I will give my all to any task which is put before me, be that as part of a team or on my own initiative. My strong work ethic can be seen from my academic record since I began college and from my involvement in extracurricular activities. I am chairperson of the Mooting and Debating Society at Griffith College Dublin, I am a student mentor, and I am currently a student case worker and administrator for the Irish Innocence Project. I also have three months experience working as a legal assistant in Beauchamps, where I worked on the Data Protection Project.

My hard work was recognised by my College when I was given the opportunity to intern with the Brehon Law Society. This was a month-long judicial internship in the criminal courts in Philadelphia, which allowed me to experience the American legal system first hand. I also made invaluable contacts and learned skills that I will continue to use throughout my legal career.

Last Summer, I participated in a week-long course in Dispute Resolution in Vienna as part of the European Law Student's Association (ELSA) Summer law school. I gained knowledge and practical experience in the field of Dispute Resolution and took a liking to the process of Negotiations and Commercial Arbitration.

My passion for Commercial Law pushed me to apply and be accepted to the LLM programme in International Commercial Law in UCD, starting in September 2019. By interning at ByrneWallace, I feel I would gain varied and hands on experience that will help me in my future studies and career.

I am a strong-willed person with great research and writing skills, which I feel will be of great use to me in this internship. My creativity allows me to come up with innovative solutions for problems, ensuring all my tasks are completed to a high standard. I also have interests in Politics, International Law, and I love to read. Due to all of this, I feel that this internship will allow me to work within a field and a firm, that I am passionate about.

Kind Regards,

Amy Lee
