ByrneWallace LLP

Dear Recipient

I am writing to express my strong interest in the 2025 Trainee Solicitor Programme at ByrneWallace. As a current Master's in Common Law student at University College Dublin, combined with my experience in media production and a solid academic foundation in business administration, I am eager to leverage my skills and passion for commercial law to contribute to your esteemed legal team.

My undergraduate studies at the University of Richmond provided me with a diverse skill set through various internships and leadership positions. As a New York Market Intern at Audacy and a College Associate at Fox Business Network's The Claman Countdown, I developed strong research and editing abilities in a dynamic environment. I routinely conducted research for segments and prepared materials under tight deadlines, experiences that mirror the advanced legal research, analysis, and drafting skills essential for success in this role. My collaborative work on diverse projects, alongside regular progress tracking, has also prepared me to be a valuable contributor to your team's legal research and policy review efforts.

I am particularly attracted to the wide range of legal areas the ByrneWallace Trainee Programme encompasses, including commercial contracts, regulatory compliance, and dispute resolution. My academic and legal training have provided me with a strong foundation in project management, and I am committed to maintaining the highest standards of quality and ethics in my work. I am eager to apply these skills and my attention to detail to support the firm's various practice areas effectively.

I am confident that my legal education, professional experiences, and enthusiasm for commercial law make me a strong candidate for this opportunity. I would welcome the chance to contribute to ByrneWallace's initiatives while furthering my understanding of the legal landscape in Ireland. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss my qualifications in more detail.
