Dear Byrne Wallace,

I am writing to you in respect of the trainee position advertised on your website. I am a young, bright, dedicated legal professional with fantastic corporate, top tier firm experience.

I have extensive knowledge working in the legal and financial sectors, with evidence of deep, critical, analytical thinking and attention to detail.

I have fantastic experience in civil litigation, along with financial regulatory investigations and discovery requests working for a number of Ireland's financial institutions and insurance providers in respect of discovery in anticipation of impending investigation and litigation.

I am ambitious and committed to a career in law and would relish the opportunity to learn and grow with a firm like Byrne Wallace, as they continue to further consolidate their position in the Irish legal market.

I am sure that I have the skills needed to succeed and excel within Lemman and in turn help to further establish the office's position in the market.

I am sure that a face to face/ virtual meeting will allow me to show that I am the perfect candidate for the Byrne Wallace Trainee Solicitor position. .

Sincerely,

Cian Smith
