To whom it may concern,

I really appreciate this opportunity to introduce myself to ByrneWallace and I am very grateful to be able to apply for this Trainee Solicitor Programme.

I graduated from Trinity College Dublin in 2016 where I successfully completed a Master's in International and European Business Law (LLM) and I am currently working in O'Brien Lynam Solicitors as a Litigation Legal Executive. I am a passionate and highly motivated individual who would love the chance to work in your firm as a Trainee. I will be undertaking three more FE1s in October 2019 and I hope to have all eight FE1s completed by March 2020.

I am applying for the ByrneWallace Trainee Solicitor Programme as I've heard the training is second to none and this is the most important factor for me when applying for a traineeship. Having read over your website's 'Trainees' page and the trainees' testimonials, it was really encouraging to read about the strong educational culture in place and the opportunity to learn from some of the best lawyers in the industry is experience you cannot put a price on.

The rotational system offers a trainee the chance to work in multiple areas of law with the option to mould their own experience. The different aspects to the training programme such as the educational workshops and support systems in place provide a great platform to succeed. I want to have a long and successful career in law and if some of your existing partners started their careers as trainees in your firm, I believe ByrneWallace is the perfect fit for me.

If I get the opportunity to work in your firm, I feel I could contribute significantly, and this stems mainly from my bachelor's degree and master's education but also from my law related work experiences as seen on my CV. All my past and present roles involved working in a team to achieve the best possible results and I hope to bring this competitive mind-set to your firm. I want to be a part of your growing success and thanks to your website, I gained useful information about your company and I believe I can fit accordingly into its culture and fast paced working environment.

Lastly, thank you for taking the time to consider my application and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Yours faithfully,
Ciaran Corcoran.
