Byrne Wallace,

Dear Recruitment Manager,

I am a Bachelor of Laws (LLB) graduate from Maynooth University, achieving a high 2:1. I have sat and passed six FE-1 examinations to date, whilst awaiting the results of my final two. With an ambition to pursue a career as a solicitor, I am particularly eager to find a law firm which is right for me.

With Byrne Wallace's reputation of being one of Ireland's leading full-service law firms, I was instantly drawn to this opportunity to take on a dynamic position working across a range of different practice areas.

I have worked in the legal industry for over 2 years which has cemented my interest in pursuing a career in law. Initially, I began working in legal advisory, and have since branched into legal consultancy and tutoring.

My role at Meridian Global Services has introduced me to life in a busy, fast paced office environment where initiative and efficiency are non-negotiables. I work as part of the consultancy department which consists of 12 individuals, often collaborating and engaging together on projects and general client work. My work is largely composed of guiding and navigating large international clients through their European fiscal implementation and activities to ensure compliance with international tax laws. This role drastically improved my ability to review and draft legal documentation and contracts. In addition, I frequently organised and attended meetings with clients and tax inspectors in order to protect and defend my client's interests.

During this time, I have consistently displayed my ability to put my shoulder to the wheel and help drive my team toward goals, depicting my ability to work as part of a team and capabilities of being the ideal Trainee for Byrne Wallace.

Thank you very much for the consideration, I look forward to hearing from you soon.
