Dear Sir/Madam,

I am applying for the Summer internship role at ByrneWallace. Possessing an array of skills, coupled with experiences in relevant areas, I believe that I am an ideal candidate for the position.

In choosing to apply for a ByrneWallace Internship, I realise it would be a challenging but rewarding experience. I am a curious, motivated, passionate worker with a keen interest in law and politics. I am presently studying Politics and International Relations which has a significant law element that I have found to be of great interest to me. That interest has whetted my appetite to learn more, thus this opportunity would give me that greater insight. My current university course has provided me with knowledge on human rights issues and criminal law.

It was from legal and political debating in secondary school that I developed presentation and communication skills and to formulate sound arguments. Perseverance and problem-solving abilities were skills I exhibited during this time also. I am comfortable in leadership roles and teamwork environments which I demonstrate when partaking in volunteering events and activities.

My current BA degree course gives me an opportunity to look directly at the workings of the legal sector but also related sectors which I see as of great benefit. I have learned about legal concepts and thoroughly enjoyed modules that have given me an insight into aspects of the legal world. I am motivated to join ByrneWallace as I think it would be a place for me to develop and enhance my skillset. Through my achievements to date, I show I am determined across an array of tasks.

The ByrneWallace Intern opportunity would be a suitable internship for me with my existing knowledge and skillset. I would apply my growing skillset to develop these and other new skills further and benefit the ByrneWallace team.

I am grateful for the opportunity to apply for this position and I hope to hear from you in the future.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Emily Guckian
