Dear Whom, it may concern,

I am recent graduate of Business and Law UCD, and I wish to apply to your firm for a training contract.

I have worked throughout my final year in a small law practice and after achieving a 2.1 in my degree, I am looking to move toward higher level, more challenging work.

Byrne-Wallace stood out to me as an attractive place to work due to its friendly culture and prestigious expertise. Now wanting to begin a career in law, I would love to work with a progressive team that continues to have such a huge impact particularly in the area of healthcare law.

I am a hard worker and I understand that the Firm's work would be intellectually challenging, however, your firm would present the best opportunity for me to start developing experience in not only healthcare, but a variety of areas. Through my Dual bachelor's in Business and Law I have an active interest and good understanding of commerce. I intend on building on this and wish to explore the areas of Commercial and Corporate law on a deeper level.

Similar to the complex cases your firm takes, I like pushing myself to achieve new goals, and I take hold of any opportunity that comes my way. As noted in my CV, team sports have always played a central part of my life and I find it very rewarding to work with a hardworking team. I expect same sense of fulfilment from working with a top-class team in professional environment.

I would be extremely grateful if you considered my application and I look forward to seeing the firm's work in the future.

Yours Sincerely,

Emma Kate Murphy
