Dear Sir/Madam,

After learning about your firm's summer opportunity, I was inspired to apply for your internship programme. When I continued to research your firm I was struck by the vast range of areas of practice and I feel it is an environment in which I would not be afraid to ask questions to aid my development and further legal experience and career. I am particularly interested in progressing into the areas of IT law and security; therefore I feel a firm with an ISO certification is the right fit for me.

As your firm engages with a wide range of the law, adaptability and fast learning are essential skills. I feel I can really bring this to the internship, having previous experience in a legal setting.

Of course, communication is a vital skill within the legal profession. I have completed public speaking courses like Toastmasters, as well as workshops and seminars while training for my roles as a mentor and counsellor. I feel communication is founded on mutual respect, and everyone's experience adds to the solution, which must be borne in mind when problem solving.

I think I would be a good candidate, as I am well rounded, hard-working and enjoy learning about the legal profession, which this internship would give me the ideal opportunity to do.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Eva Dunne
