Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing this letter to highlight my skills and qualifications that make me a suitable candidate for a summer internship at Byrne Wallace. Upon reading my curriculum vitae, you will see through both my previous employment and interests that I have vast experience in working as part of a diverse team, a crucial quality to be a part of any law firm.

I would be delighted to achieve an internship with Byrne Wallace because as a progressive law firm, they recognise much more than just academics. Business & Law was not my initial choice but a subject has never enthused me more. I love the diversity of law and the ever-changing nature of the job. It's a path which allows you to constantly learn and meet new people, which is why I know I want to pursue and be successful in a career as a lawyer.

I want to learn more about the practical side of the profession, outside of lecture halls and I believe that Byrne Wallace will provide the highest possible standard of resources to enable me to get the most return from such a short space of time. It is the optimal choice for any applicant as the company has received a variety of awards and accolades over the years, in addition to being one of the top law firms in the country, with a range of specialities in different areas of practise.

To conclude, I believe I can not only gain invaluable experience at your firm but also contribute to your company.

I greatly appreciate your consideration for this position and I look forward to further discussing my qualifications in person. Thank you again for your time.

Yours faithfully,
Hazel O'Leary
