

My name is Isaac Johnson, I am currently studying a PG Level 9 in Law at TUD.

I am applying to your firm in order to be considered for a trainee contract as I understand that yours is a full service practice which would give me the opportunity to learn all aspects of the profession and perhaps steer me in a direction of a specialisation into the future.

I am particularly interested in the media and intellectual property services that your firm offer, and have aspirations myself to work in this space one day. During the summer, I attended two online courses that furthered my interest in these fields - Social Media and the Law from the Law Society of Ireland and Legal Tech and the Digital Transformation of Law from Coursera - which led me to enrol in the Media/IP module offered by TUD as part of my degree.

I took the opportunity to work with two full practice firms in Waterford last summer and thoroughly enjoyed the experience. My undergraduate degree is a joint honours in English and Archaeology (2.1) which has developed my skills in writing and research, which I hope will be valuable skills as a trainee solicitor.
