RE: Traineeship Application.

Dear Sir or Madam,

My name is Isobel Lorigan and I am a final year Commerce student in UCD. It is with great enthusiasm that I submit my application to your company for the Solicitor Traineeship position.

With the nature of my degree course and my work ethic I believe that I would be an invaluable asset to your company.

I want to work for one of the most progressive legal firms in Ireland and working at ByrneWallace would afford me that opportunity. As my resume shows I am used to working as part of a team and I am excited about the prospect of joining your team.

I am a highly capable and determined worker and with the guidance, support and training of those working in ByrneWallace I believe that it would have a profound impact on my legal training and I would relish this opportunity.

I have taken classes in business law, finance and global business. These modules introduced me to areas such as employment law, financial law and the legalities that come with FDI and taking a company to an international status. I thoroughly enjoyed these modules and I am very excited about ByrneWallace's presence in these areas and the possibility that I could further study, learn and practice in these areas of the law as part of your legal team.

I believe that I could bring more to ByrneWallace than just my fledgling legal knowledge. My Commerce degree would be an asset to working with you as ByrneWallace is a law firm with a strong accent towards business and I believe that I have skill set that would compliment your company's direction.

Yours faithfully,

Isobel Lorigan
