Ciara Loftus,
HR Manager,
88 Harcourt Street,
Dublin 2

Dear Ciara Loftus,

Summer Intern Programme applicant, seeking to work, train and develop with Byrne Wallace, having taken modules in Company Law, Property law, Banking Law and Contemporary Developments in Corporate Law. I believe I would be a useful intern as I have experience in researching and writing legal reports, working with a group to meet a publication deadline. I enjoy being challenged while also appreciate the opportunity to continue to learn through working in the various departments of your firm, such as Real Estate and Property. It means I can apply what I have learned from my law degree and expand on this knowledge through real experience and explore other services that were not part of my degree, such as litigation. I am genuinely eager to intern with Byrne Wallace due to your firm's reputation, expertise, and encouraging environment.

While in university I took part in legal research, through an international legal student society, called the European Law Students' Association (ELSA). From this I worked on legal research for the International Labour Organisation (ILO) along with a second comparative legal research group on Compliance in European law. Extracurricular activities included Legal Research on Occupational Safety and Health Legislation, in association with the International Labour Organisation; and legal research on the European Compliance Benchmark. Please see C.V. attached for further details. From this experience I learned to work remotely with a team. I expanded my knowledge on labour law, regarding Irish and European labour laws. I was Deputy President of Marketing of the national board of ELSA. Part of my duties included informing all local university ELSA societies of upcoming events, along with managing social media accounts. I also created the logo for the Dublin Summer ELSA Law School, on Corporate & Financial Law, using Adobe InDesign.

Thank you for considering my internship application. I hope I have illustrated reasons to be considered. I would be ecstatic to begin my legal career with Byrne Wallace, due to the deserving reputation of your firm, and to work alongside the esteemed, knowledgeable and merited partners of your firm.

Sincerely,

Jennifer O Leary.
