Dear Sir/Madam,

I am a 4th year Business and Law student at Dublin Institute of technology (DIT) with an expected grade of a 1st class honours. I am very interested in becoming a graduate trainee at your firm.

Over the years I have been very interested in how society functions and how laws are made. I have always strived to be part of something bigger and help others. So as a result, I decided to pursue a career in law, not only to help others resolve their problems but also to be part of something exciting and challenging. From the completion of my summer internship I have found that a career in law can be very diverse and interactive, as you deal with different issues and clients daily.

There are numerous reasons why I would love to become a graduate trainee at Byrne Wallace. Firstly, I am attracted by the firms track record not only for being the best in the field but also their track record for inclusion and diversity. In addition, the firms' strong educational culture is a great plus for someone like me who wants to learn and develop. A major advantage is the fact that it is a full service firm providing a wide-range of areas for rotation. Furthermore, I am very impressed with the firms' involvement with charitable organisations including Special Olympics Ireland, Breast Cancer Ireland and many others. It is important to give back to the community and I admire the firm for doing this. The open door policy and the social aspects of the firm show that the firm takes care of their employees. For all these reasons I would love to join the team.

I have a proven track record of responsibility, integrity and commitment to company objectives. I am comfortable working independently or as part of a team, and I firmly believe that your needs and my skills are an excellent match. I am motivated, confident, responsible, organised individual with an eye for detail. I am fluent in English and Lithuanian and have some basic Spanish. In addition to my excellent academic track record I am a very social person with many interests and hobbies including art, fitness and judo. One key element that I believe sets me aside from many other applicants is my independence, I have managed to move out of the parental home while in college. This illustrates my determination and my capabilities to balance study, work and the responsibilities which come along with living alone.

I would love the opportunity to Interview with you and demonstrate my skills personally. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Monika Sauksciute
