Byrne Wallace

Training contract

Dear Sirs,

In my search for a fulfilling post-graduate professional experience, I was thrilled to find the Training contract opening with Byrne Wallace. As an ambitious French graduate from University College Dublin and Panthéon-Assas Paris II University in French and Common law (double degree of four years), I believe that I would make an excellent addition to your team.

I had the opportunity to study two very different legal mechanisms which enabled me to have an interesting comparative perspective and to enhance my critical thinking while having my own approach of the two legal systems.

Commercially aware, I would like to specialize in Commercial and Corporate law, including on the European and international levels. I am hard-working and eager to learn and gain experience in these domains but also in others such as in Intellectual Property or in Alternative Dispute Resolution.

Identifying improved approaches and innovative solutions to business challenges are activities that drive and inspire me. I believe that fresh perspectives and modern techniques help businesses evolve and grow. Artificial intelligence is developing and appears to be a complementary and valuable tool to the solicitor's analysis and legal research.

Alternative ways to resolve disputes like mediation are part of the future of the legal profession and is an area that particularly interests me as it is a more cost-effective and non-adversarial approach which offers important advantages such as confidentiality and help preserve relationships while putting the parties in control.

During my summer internship and current legal executive role, I developed problem-solving, legal reasoning, critical-thinking and organizational skills. I also had several non-legal working experiences as a waitress in France, England and Ireland that enabled me to develop my communication skills and proactivity while being confronted to real-working-life issues as part of a team and of a business.

I am an open-minded team player and I am collaborative with peers searching for ways to give valuable insights and new perspectives. Through these qualities, I have confidence in my ability to facilitate positive change and collective effort at Byrne Wallace.

For a greater illustration of my background and qualifications, please review my enclosed resume. I am eager to speak with you about this opportunity and thoroughly appreciate your consideration.

Sincerely,
Noemie Ben Harrous
