Dear Ms. Loftus

Re: Trainee Solicitor Programme 2025

I am writing to express my interest in the role of Trainee Solicitor at ByrneWallace LLP. I am an LLM candidate at Trinity College Dublin, pursuing Master's in International and European Business Law, and have successfully completed my undergraduate law degree with corporate law honours from Maharashtra National Law University, Mumbai, India.

I am interested in the commercial aspects of the law and have pursued opportunities to gain more knowledge in this field. My internships with top law firms in India provided me with a significant amount of corporate legal exposure and equipped me with strong research skills, effective time management, and creative problem-solving abilities. I understand the work carried out by a commercial law firm, and I am eager to collaborate with like-minded individuals to learn more about the complexities of law while also making meaningful contributions to deals and transactions at the firm.

I am a motivated and hardworking individual with a strong work ethic and an eagerness to learn, consistently striving for the successful completion of all tasks assigned to me. My participation in co-curricular activities has enhanced my teamwork skills, honed my public speaking and communication abilities and I possess a keen eye for detail. I find questions of commercial law intellectually stimulating and enjoy learning more about it. Despite being born in a region marked by turmoil, my resilience and adaptability drove me to pursue my passion for the law and seek opportunities for learning and growth.

I admire the work done at ByrneWallace LLP and the firm's commitment to diversity and inclusion resonates with me deeply. I attended the firm's Trainee Open Evening and was pleased to experience the warmth and close-knit environment at the firm. I believe in the importance of work-life balance and that pursuing hobbies outside of work enhances productivity and contributes to overall personal development. I am happy that ByrneWallace shares these values, and I would welcome the opportunity to learn from some of the sharpest legal minds while contributing my own skills to the firm. I believe I would be an excellent fit for the trainee solicitor programme at ByrneWallace.

Yours sincerely,
Ramsha Reyaz
