

Sarah O'Flynn,
Churchtown,
Newcastle west,
Co. Limerick.

Graduate Recruitment Manager,
88 Harcourt Street,
Saint Kevin's,
Dublin 2.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to you seeking an opportunity to be a part of the Byrne Wallace trainee programme. I know that Byrne Wallace is one of the best law firms in Ireland and I believe that by learning from the best it will enable me to fulfil my potential and progress with my career in law in a constructive manner.

I chose a career in law because I believe that my personality, drive and determination are compatible with traits every good solicitor should have. I was adamant that I wanted a job which was interesting and that would give me the ability to progress. I am extremely capable at speaking in crowds and I thrive under pressure. I am determined and driven to thrive in my career, and so, I always do the tasks that I am given as quickly and as efficiently as possible. I wanted a career that would challenge me and where I would have the opportunity to make progress. I am extremely ambitious, and I believe that by choosing a career in law I will be able to reach goals that I set out to achieve. I could not see myself being anything else other than a solicitor and due to this, my career in law is where my focus lies.

I have chosen to apply to Byrne Wallace because not only do I believe that I can gain the best experience in this firm but I also believe that the firm's values and morals correspond with my own. I believe that by acknowledging every business and industry as separate and different you can create a long-lasting relationship with the client. Ultimately, I want to learn from the best so that I may reach such a high level of performance. I have a profound interest in corporate and business law as you will be able to tell from my final year module choices.

I know that if I were given the opportunity to interview with Byrne Wallace, I could showcase how interested I am in working with the firm and in the corporate sector. I have previous experience working in corporate, litigation, property and commercial with Clark Hill Solicitors which will also be of benefit to me in any role that I am assigned to as I understand the practical application of law.

Thank you for your time.

Kind regards,

Sarah.