Dear Ms McLoughlin,

Re: Traineeship Application

Having completed my university studies at both Trinity College and University College Dublin I commenced working as a Legal Assistant in the Google Trademark Team. Since then I have had the privilege of working on cutting-edge legal issues alongside top legal professionals in the field of intellectual property law.

My time spent at Google has allowed me to grow and develop my communication and project management skills, while complex and novel legal issues have also taught me to think outside the box. Due to the Google's innovative nature my team had to constantly review and adapt our processes and this has deepened my understanding and appreciation of the role that technology has to when it comes to the law.

Having gained this valuable experience, I am now looking to take the next step in my legal education; qualifying and training as a solicitor. To this end I have begun sitting the entrance examinations to the Law Society of Ireland.

I am particularly interested in training at ByrneWallace due to your firm's comprehensive coverage of corporate law and in particular your expertise in technology law. Having started my career in a multinational technology company I am keen to gain a broader and more holistic overview of technology, as well as corporate law in Ireland.

I believe a traineeship at ByrneWallace will equip me with the necessary knowledge and skills in order for me to succeed as a lawyer in today's fast-paced and challenging legal world.

I look forward to the opportunity of discussing my application with you at interview.

Yours sincerely,
Susanna Meindl
