Smart Funding: Flexible options for funding growth in the tech sector

Irish software firm, Clavis Insight, is one of the global leaders in the provision of ecommerce store analytics for international consumer goods brands. In 2015, the company raised over US$20 million equity investment from private equity firm Accel-KKR and existing investors. Clavis Insight has used the funding raised to underpin its ambitious growth strategy. At this seminar, Garry Moroney, CEO, Clavis Insight, will provide an overview of their funding journey. This is followed by a panel discussion with funding experts on the various sources of funding available in the market and how best to leverage these.
